The YTD statement shows you the income and expenditure for a property (or properties) over the financial year. Each column is explained below:

Year/Month: Each month by year in the date range you have selected

Rent: The amount of money received in through receipting as Rent

Intro.Funds: This is any money that was receipted in that was not rent, i.e Water rates, tenant invoices and money paid to you by the Owner.

Fees: This covers the management, maintenance, inspections and admin fees

GST: The GST component of the Fees

Invoices: This is any Creditor Invoice or Payment Expense that has come from the property

Payments: Any Owner Payments made. This does not necessarily mean the owner got the money, it just means that a Transaction was done using Payment Owner

Net: This column is the total of the whole line. For instance line 1 says that it was overpaid for the month of April. This usually means that there was an opening balance in the month before. You take the rent amount and add any intro funds, then you minus the fees, GST, Invoices and Payments, the total is the Net amount.

Invoice Analysis (incl.GST) – Expenses: Every invoice that went against this property during the selected date range will be broken down into an expense type. This is the expense type that was selected against the Creditor
